Notes to the Schedule of Peru

1. A Gobierno Regional may deny the benefits of this Section to a supplier of the United States unless it meets one of the applicable conditions set out below.

a. Procurement of Goods:

- (i) The supplier is offering to supply a good of the other Party, as determined under Article 9.2.4 of this Chapter, and has a principal place of business in a participating state or is directly or indirectly owned or controlled by an enterprise with a principal place of business in a participating state; or
- (ii) The supplier is offering to supply a good that is substantially produced or assembled in one or more participating states. A good shall be considered to be substantially produced or assembled in a participating state(s) if the production or assembly in the participating state(s) accounts for 51 percent or more of the value of the good.

b. Procurement of Services Other Than Construction Services:

- (i) If the supplier is offering to supply a service, other than a construction service, the supplier has a principal place of business in a participating state or is directly or indirectly owned or controlled by an enterprise with a principal place of business in a participating state; or
- (ii) The supplier is offering to supply a service, other than a construction service, that is substantially performed within a participating state(s). A service, other than a construction service, shall be considered to be substantially performed in a participating state(s) if the performance of the service in the participating state(s)

 - (d) 5 million SDRs for construction services for Section A, B and C entities.
3. The United States shall notify Peru of the adjusted threshold value in December of the year before the adjusted thresholds take effect.
4. Peru shall:
- (a) convert the adjusted threshold values notified by the United States under paragraph 3 into Nuevo Soles based on the official conversion rate of its central bank, using the average of the daily values of its currency in terms of the U.S. dollar over the two-year period ending September 30 of the year in which the United States notifies the adjusted threshold; and
 - (b) promptly notify the United States of the value in its currency of the adjusted thresholds.
6. The Parties shall consult bilaterally if a major change in a national currency vis-à-vis the other currency were to create a significant problem with regard to the application of the Chapter.
